DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-16, 27, and 28; drawn to a method, system, or computer program product for synthesizing polymers on a substrate wherein sequential alignment of two or more of a plurality of reticles is performed associated with a synthesis area, classified in classes 530 and 536, subclasses 333 and 25.3, respectively.
- II. Claims 17-22, drawn to an irradiation mask and a method for its manufacture, classified in class 430, subclass 5.
- III. Claims 23-26 and 42-48, drawn to a probe array, classified in class 536, subclass 23.1.
- IV. Claims 29-41 and 49-51, drawn to a method, system, or computer program product for synthesizing polymers on a substrate wherein a mask is first aligned regarding a first reticle area and then re-aligned for a second reticle area as associated with a synthesis area classified in classes 530 and 536, subclasses 333 and 25.3, respectively.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:

The inventions of Groups I, III, and IV versus II are related as products or processes of use versus a product and its manufacture, but directed to distinct inventions. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the inventions of Groups I, III, and IV versus Group II have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects in that the mask and its corresponding manufacturing method are directed to radiation control per se which may be utilized in multiple processes for irradiation of materials for treatments involving a wide variety of materials and as well as probe array synthesis as claimed in Groups I, III, and IV.

The inventions of Groups I and IV versus III are related as distinct processes of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the probe array may be made by overall masking processes wherein the mask contains the overall pattern for synthesis on the substrate without the specific sequential one or two reticle at a time alignment methods as in Groups I and IV. The nature of the alignment practice between Groups I and IV also make these distinct processes from each other.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Art Unit: 1631

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Papers related to this application may be submitted to Technical Center 1600 by facsimile transmission.
